RUNNING CLINIC FROM HOME NOT A COMMERCIAL ACTIVITY: HC

Harish V Nair
harish.nair@hindustantimes.com

NEW DELHI: Spelling relief for several of the Capital's doctors, the Delhi High Court on Monday ruled that running clinics from residential premises will not be counted as a commercial activity.

The court said that this would not constitute violation of sanctioned use of property and also ruled that a written permission of the municipal commissioner was not required for this purpose.

"I am of the considered view that the professional establishment of a doctor cannot come within the definition of commercial activity," ruled justice Suresh Kait.

The court made the ruling while setting aside the penal proceedings initiated eight years ago by the Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD) against one doctor DV Chug, who ran a clinic from his Rajouri Garden residence.

MCD charged him with illegal change of use of property to "commercial" while the sanctioned use of the property was "residential". The doctor was charged under section 437 of the Delhi Municipal Corporation Act.

"Commerce is that activity where a capital is put into work, there is risk of profit or loss. Only if the activities are undertaken for production or distribution of goods or for rendering material services, it comes under the definition of commerce. There is fundamental distinction between professional activities and commercial activities," said justice Kait.

Snag at airport

Subhendu Ray

NEW DELHI: For the past few weeks, a technical snag reportedly slowed the high-speed Airport Express that connects Delhi Railway Station and Terminal 3 of the Indira Gandhi International Airport.

The snag is causing a delay in train operations on the 23-km corridor, officials said.

A source said, "A technical problem was identified on the civil side of the elevated street track now is not in a position to withstand pressure of a high-speed train, so trains are running at a slow pace."

Spokesperson of the Ministry of Infrastructure, the corporation's air company manning the train refused to comment when asked about the reason behind the delay.

Commuters said the journey between New Delhi and the airport now takes more than 30 minutes. "The delay in movement of trains is a massive delay in train services. It has become synonymous with the Airport Metro Express."
