Suggestion	A very common scene on most of the roads and almost in each street of Delhi, is parking of vehicles on both sides of the road/street. Multilevel parkings in more and more localities, preferable under big parks. A fine of not less than Rs.10 each time may be imposed to the owner of the vehicle, who is parking his vehicle on the road/street (i.e. space meant for common public). Frequent drives (early morning), to be conducted in different areas to identify those, who have become habitual to park their vehicles on road/in street. It will decrease number of vehicles and identify law breakers and help to punish them mildly. Govt. Will have a dedicated source of revenue for building multilevel parkings. Less congested roads & streets, smooth traffic, less pollution, fuel saving will become Delhi an ideal city to live in. People will become aware of this menace and after getting rid in Delhi, same suggestion may be implemented in other cities also
